

The Road to a Remedy

Edited by John Squires (AHRC) and Malcolm Langford and Bret Thiele (COHRE).

CONTENTS:

1. Malcolm Langford and Bret Thiele - Introduction: The Road to a Remedy

I. Assessment of Progress

2. Martin Scheinin - Justiciability and the Indivisibility of Human Rights

3. Matthew Craven - Assessment of the Progress on Adjudication of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights

4. Bruce Porter - The Crisis of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights and Strategies for Addressing It

II. Positive Obligations

5. Sandra Liebenberg - Enforcing Positive Socio-Economic Rights Claims:
The South African Model of Reasonableness Review

6. Malcolm Langford - Judging Resource Availability

III. Remedies

7. Kent Roach - Crafting Remedies for Violations of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights

8. Geoff Budlender - The Right to Alternative Accommodation in Forced Evictions

9. Carolina Fairstein - Positive Remedies: The Argentinean Experience

IV. Comparative Experiences

10. Opiata Odindo - Litigation and Housing Rights in Kenya

11. Victor Abramovich - Fostering Dialogue: The Role of the Judiciary and Litigation

12. Colin Gonsalves - Reflections on the Indian Experience

V. Suing Non-State Actors

13. Richard Meeran - Multinational Litigation as a Weapon in Protecting Economic and Social Rights

14. Bret Thiele and Mayra Gomez - Suing the World Bank: The Chixoy Dam Case

Report

15. Aoife Nolan - A Report of Discussions and Outcomes at the Economic, Social and Cultural Rights
Litigation Strategy Workshop Céligny, Switzerland, 16-18 November
2003